Scope

The scope covers the following :

- The learner will be able to implement effective waste management practices including segregation, disposal, and compliance with environmental regulations, while applying sustainability principles such as zero waste, energy conservation, and use of eco-friendly products. They will monitor and manage inventory through stock-taking, maintaining par levels, and classifying goods, along with ensuring proper handling, storage, and disposal of cleaning chemicals and hazardous materials. The learner will also support preventive maintenance and infrastructure upkeep through regular inspections and reporting, maintain accurate records, checklists, and documentation related to goods and environmental practices, and utilize office tools such as Word, PowerPoint, Excel, and Email for professional documentation. Additionally, they will apply digital communication and documentation practices effectively within hospitality operations.

Elements and Performance Criteria

Goods Management and Environmental Practices

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC1. Classify different types of waste and ensure proper waste separation, storage, and disposal according to local laws and established procedures.
- PC2. Follow the five stages of the waste management process, ensuring compliance with established procedures for each stage.
- PC3. Establish and regularly check clear waste sorting instructions to ensure all systems are understood and followed by staff.
- PC4. Adhere to the Zero Waste Principle by identifying and implementing strategies to reduce waste generation and create a waste inventory to target areas for waste reduction.
- PC5. Ensure that all guestroom amenities are free from harmful components, recyclable, and reusable, aligning with eco-friendly standards.
- PC6. Identify areas of high energy consumption within the hotel's operations and implement measures to reduce energy usage effectively.
- PC7. Use local resources and prioritize local products, while educating guests through positive, guilt-free messaging to encourage energy conservation

Confederation of Indian Industry

Qualification Pack

- PC8. Ensure adherence to energy best practices and policies, conducting educational sessions for staff on water and electricity conservation, and preparing an "Environment Measures" booklet.
- PC9. List and evaluate the impact of various cleaning products and materials on the ecosystem and implement measures to reduce their environmental footprint.
- PC10. Audit the consumption of cleaning chemicals and hazardous materials, preparing an action plan with measurable targets for reduction, and record the type and quantity of chemical purchases, noting eco-labels where applicable.
- PC11. Employ eco-friendly cleaning products and switch to refurbished and reusable cleaning pads and mops, while reducing water consumption through Green Laundry techniques.
- PC12. Dispose of cleaning products according to local legislation and ensure that disposal practices prevent environmental damage.
- PC13. Ensure correct disposal of chemical cleaning products to minimize environmental impact by classifying and separating waste according to labels and using authorized businesses for recycling or disposal.
- PC14. Identify and implement long-term maintenance strategies for premises, facilities, and machines, including optimization of energy usage in laundry operations.
- PC15. Regularly inspect premises, create a Snag list, and perform renovations to maintain standards according to SOP and hotel guidelines.
- PC16. Ensure that materials are stored properly on pallets to detect leaks easily and maintain detailed records of maintenance activities and inventory.
- PC17. Understand and apply the main steps and risks in the goods management cycle, ensuring effective management and adherence to the established process.
- PC18. Identify and maintain necessary documents and checklists used throughout the goods management process.
- PC19. Define stock-taking frequency separately for recycled and non-recycled items, ensuring regular and accurate inventory checks.
- PC20. Classify goods into different categories according to SOP and ensure effective inventory management practices are followed.
- PC21. Determine and maintain appropriate par levels for each inventory item, ensuring they are consistently aligned with operational requirements.
- PC22. Implement effective management practices for different types of inventories, including monitoring and adjusting inventory levels as needed.

Utilize Office Tools & Equipment

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC23. Explain the main functions of word processing software and demonstrate their practical use in a hospitality setting.
- PC24. Create and format a document using word processing software following industry standards and organizational requirements.
- PC25. Explain and demonstrate the proper application of presentation software to create professional digital presentations.
- PC26. Compose and send professional business correspondence using email, adhering to proper business communication rules and email etiquette.
- PC27. Identify document formats and file extensions used in business communication, explaining their relevance and application.

Confederation of Indian Industry

- PC28. Demonstrate the ability to apply different formatting styles, including tables and graphics, to enhance organizational documents.
- PC29. Create a basic Word document, format it using styles, and apply document enhancements such as bullet points, headers, and footers.
- PC30. Develop and edit PowerPoint presentations, using templates, applying consistent color schemes, animation, and slide transitions
- PC31. Insert images and digital pictures into Word and PowerPoint documents to make them more engaging and visually effective.
- PC32. Demonstrate how to effectively integrate and apply various Microsoft Office tools (Word, PowerPoint, Excel) to produce professional organizational documents and presentations.
- PC33. Recognize when to use different Microsoft Office programs for creating specific types of documents or presentations, depending on internal and external communication needs.
- PC34. Apply knowledge of computer information technology vocabulary, concepts, and skills to effectively manage digital communication in a hospitality setting.

Knowledge and Understanding (KU)

The individual on the job needs to know and understand:

- KU1. Waste management processes, segregation methods, Zero Waste principles, and environmental regulations
- KU2. Sustainability practices including energy conservation, eco-friendly products, and green housekeeping techniques
- KU3. Handling, storage, and disposal of cleaning chemicals and hazardous materials as per safety norms
- KU4. Inventory management concepts including stock-taking, par levels, goods classification, and documentation
- KU5. Office tools and IT concepts including MS Word, PowerPoint, Excel, email etiquette, and digital documentation practices

Generic Skills (GS)

User/individual on the job needs to know how to:

- GS1. Analytical skills to monitor waste, energy usage, and inventory levels effectively
- GS2. Attention to detail in documentation, stock records, and compliance with environmental practices
- GS3. Communication skills for training staff and promoting sustainability practices
- GS4. Problem-solving skills to identify inefficiencies and implement improvement measures
- GS5. Digital literacy for creating professional documents, presentations, and managing communication systems

CII/THC/N1309: Communication, Numeracy, and Language Skills for Hospitality

Description

This National Occupational Standard (NOS) covers the application of basic mathematical skills and effective communication in hospitality operations. It includes performing calculations for recipe scaling, portion control, inventory, and costing, along with demonstrating professional verbal and non-verbal communication to support customer service, teamwork, and operational efficiency.

Scope

The scope covers the following :

- This NOS covers the application of basic mathematical concepts and effective communication skills in hospitality and food & beverage operations. It includes performing elementary calculations, unit conversions, recipe scaling, portion control, costing, and inventory-related calculations.
- It also focuses on verbal and non-verbal communication, including active listening, interpreting communication cues, adapting communication across cultures, and maintaining professional interactions with customers and colleagues to ensure smooth hospitality operations.

Elements and Performance Criteria

Application of Mathematical Principles

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC1. Identify and categorize different types of numbers, including whole numbers, fractions, decimals, and percentages, and explain the principles of elementary arithmetic such as addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division.
- PC2. Examine and calculate the relationship between percentages, applying this understanding to hospitality operations like service charges or discounts
- PC3. Identify and differentiate between various calculation units, such as weight (grams, kilograms), volume (liters, milliliters), and currency, while converting between them as needed for inventory and recipe adjustments
- PC4. Distinguish between gross and net weight, demonstrating how these concepts apply to recipe costing and portion control
- PC5. Use the rule of three to calculate proportional quantities, such as adjusting recipes or portions based on guest count or requirements
- PC6. Use the rule of three to calculate proportional quantities, such as adjusting recipes or portions based on guest count or requirements
- PC7. Apply different calculation units in real-life scenarios, transforming them appropriately for various operations, including converting units for cooking or service needs
- PC8. Apply different calculation units in real-life scenarios, transforming them appropriately for various operations, including converting units for cooking or service needs
- PC9. Calculate the cost of a recipe, incorporating both gross and net weights of ingredients, to ensure accurate financial planning and inventory management

Confederation of Indian Industry

Qualification Pack

- PC10. Apply basic mathematical concepts to F&B operations, such as determining serving sizes, pricing menus, and calculating waste percentages
- PC11. Recognize the importance of mathematics in daily life and hospitality operations, particularly in inventory management, cost control, and operational efficiency
- PC12. Exhibit mathematical curiosity and reasoning when solving real-life problems in the hospitality industry, demonstrating confidence in handling tasks that involve calculations

Verbal and Non-verbal Communication

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC13. Explain the principles of verbal and non-verbal communication, including how they differ and complement each other in professional and personal interactions
- PC14. Identify and interpret verbal and non-verbal communication cues when interacting with customers and colleagues, demonstrating an understanding of how these cues influence communication dynamics.
- PC15. Describe the concept of active listening and its role in effective communication, ensuring that responses are thoughtful and relevant to the conversation.
- PC16. Analyze the communication styles of various cultures, recognizing how cultural differences impact verbal and non-verbal communication in a hospitality setting
- PC17. Examine different sources of stress and anxiety in communication, identifying how these factors can affect the clarity and effectiveness of both verbal and non-verbal communication
- PC18. Express oneself in a professional tone with appropriate decorum, adapting verbal communication to suit different contexts, such as customer service interactions or team discussions.
- PC19. Demonstrate effective use of verbal and non-verbal communication cues, including body language, facial expressions, and gestures, to enhance the clarity and reception of messages.
- PC20. Apply communication best practices when interacting with customers and colleagues, using clear language, maintaining eye contact, and ensuring respectful body language.
- PC21. Assess the emotions and reactions of customers and colleagues by analyzing their verbal and non-verbal cues, and adjust communication strategies accordingly to maintain positive interactions
- PC22. Recognize the importance of effective verbal and non-verbal communication in maintaining smooth operations within hotel and restaurant environments, particularly in customer service and team coordination.
- PC23. Explain the benefits of positive communication practices in hospitality operations, such as building rapport with guests, fostering teamwork, and enhancing overall service quality.
- PC24. Acknowledge personal limitations in verbal and non-verbal communication and actively seek to improve, recognizing areas for development, such as tone, body language, or active listening skills.

Knowledge and Understanding (KU)

The individual on the job needs to know and understand:

- KU1. Types of numbers such as whole numbers, fractions, decimals, and percentages.
- KU2. Basic arithmetic operations: addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division.

Confederation of Indian Industry

- KU3. Application of percentages in hospitality operations such as service charges and discounts.
- KU4. Measurement units used in hospitality including weight, volume, and currency.
- KU5. Methods of converting units for cooking, inventory, and service needs.
- KU6. Difference between gross weight and net weight in recipe costing and portion control.
- KU7. Use of proportional calculations for adjusting recipes and quantities.
- KU8. Basic principles of recipe costing, serving size calculation, and waste control.
- KU9. Importance of mathematics in hospitality operations and cost management.
- KU10. Principles of verbal and non-verbal communication.
- KU11. Elements of effective communication such as active listening, tone, and body language.
- KU12. Cultural differences and factors affecting communication in hospitality environments.

Generic Skills (GS)

User/individual on the job needs to know how to:

- GS1. Perform basic calculations accurately for hospitality operations.
- GS2. Convert measurement units and apply calculations for recipes, inventory, and service requirements.
- GS3. Adjust recipes and quantities based on guest numbers and operational needs.
- GS4. Calculate recipe costs, serving sizes, and waste percentages for cost control.
- GS5. Apply mathematical reasoning to solve practical problems in hospitality operations.
- GS6. Communicate clearly and professionally with customers and colleagues.
- GS7. Demonstrate active listening and interpret verbal and non-verbal cues during interactions.
- GS8. Use appropriate tone, body language, and communication style in different workplace situations.

CII/THC/N1310: On the Job Training - Fundamental Course in Rooms Division

Description

This NOS covers the skills and knowledge required to perform supervised on-the-job training (OJT) in hospitality operations across housekeeping, front office, and laundry departments. It focuses on practical exposure to daily operations, guest service standards, equipment handling, interdepartmental coordination, and workplace discipline. The learner is expected to develop foundational competencies, adhere to organizational protocols, and progressively demonstrate independence in handling operational tasks while maintaining safety, hygiene, and service quality standards.

Scope

The scope covers the following :

- The learner will perform operational tasks across housekeeping, laundry, and front office departments, including guestroom cleaning, laundry processing, and basic guest handling. The role involves maintaining professional grooming and conduct, assisting in inventory and record-keeping, and supporting interdepartmental coordination. The learner will also follow safety, hygiene, and environmental practices while participating in briefings and training sessions, with a focus on developing competence and gradually handling responsibilities independently.

Elements and Performance Criteria

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC1. Report to the designated workplace supervisor and follow scheduled duties as per organizational protocols.
- PC2. Demonstrate professional grooming, hygiene, and conduct appropriate to hospitality standards throughout the training.
- PC3. Assist in day-to-day laundry operations including sorting, washing, drying, folding, and linen inventory.
- PC4. Operate laundry equipment like washer, dryer, and ironing press under supervision, ensuring correct usage and safety.
- PC5. Perform minor housekeeping tasks such as dusting, vacuuming, and linen replacement following SOPs.
- PC6. Support guest room setup including bed-making, towel arrangement, and placement of amenities.
- PC7. Observe and assist with deep cleaning and maintenance routines in guest rooms and public areas
- PC8. Assist in handling guest check-in/check-out procedures at the front office under guidance.
- PC9. Apply basic customer service etiquette during guest interactions in various departments.
- PC10. Maintain OJT records, task logs, and reflect on learning outcomes on a daily/weekly basis.
- PC11. Participate in briefings, feedback sessions, and trainings conducted by mentors/supervisors.

- PC12. Demonstrate awareness of energy conservation and waste management practices in hospitality services.
- PC13. Follow safety guidelines and emergency protocols during operations and drills.
- PC14. Show progressive improvement in independent handling of housekeeping/front office/laundry responsibilities.

Knowledge and Understanding (KU)

The individual on the job needs to know and understand:

- KU1. Basics of housekeeping, laundry, and front office operations and SOP
- KU2. Grooming standards, workplace etiquette, and customer service principles.
- KU3. Use of laundry equipment, housekeeping tools, and basic PMS functions.
- KU4. Inventory handling, documentation, and record-keeping practices.
- KU5. Interdepartmental coordination and guest handling procedures.
- KU6. Safety, hygiene, and environmental practices in hospitality operations.

Generic Skills (GS)

User/individual on the job needs to know how to:

- GS1. Follow instructions, schedules, and organizational protocols effectively.
- GS2. Communicate politely and professionally with guests and team members.
- GS3. Perform tasks with attention to detail and adherence to SOPs

DGT/VSQ/N0104: Employability Skills (120 Hours)

Description

This unit is about employability skills, Constitutional values, becoming a professional in the 21st Century, digital, financial, and legal literacy, diversity and Inclusion, English and communication skills, customer service, entrepreneurship, and apprenticeship, getting ready for jobs and career development.

Scope

The scope covers the following :

- Introduction to Employability Skills
- Constitutional values - Citizenship
- Becoming a Professional in the 21st Century
- Basic English Skills
- Career Development & Goal Setting
- Communication Skills
- Diversity & Inclusion
- Financial and Legal Literacy
- Essential Digital Skills
- Entrepreneurship
- Customer Service
- Getting ready for Apprenticeship & Jobs

Elements and Performance Criteria

Introduction to Employability Skills

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC1. understand the significance of employability skills in meeting the current job market requirement and future of work
- PC2. identify and explore learning and employability relevant portals
- PC3. research about the different industries, job market trends, latest skills required and the available opportunities

Constitutional values - Citizenship

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC4. recognize the significance of constitutional values, including civic rights and duties, citizenship, responsibility towards society etc. for personal growth and the nation's progress
- PC5. follow personal values and ethics such as honesty, integrity, caring and respecting others, etc.
- PC6. follow and promote environmentally sustainable practices

Becoming a Professional in the 21st Century

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC7. recognize the significance of 21st Century Skills for employment

Confederation of Indian Industry

Qualification Pack

- PC8. practice the 21st Century Skills such as Self-Awareness, Behaviour Skills, time management, critical and adaptive thinking, problem-solving, creative thinking, social and cultural awareness, emotional awareness, learning to learn for continuous learning etc. in personal and professional life
- PC9. adopt a continuous learning mindset for personal and professional development

Basic English Skills

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC10. use English as a medium of formal and informal communication while dealing with topics of everyday conversation in different contexts
- PC11. speak over the phone in English, in an audible manner, using appropriate greetings, opening, and closing statements both on personal and work front
- PC12. read and understand routine information, notes, instructions, mails, letters etc. written in English
- PC13. write short messages, notes, letters, e-mails etc., using accurate English

Career Development & Goal Setting

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC14. identify career goals based on the skills, interests, knowledge, and personal attributes
