- PC11. Define total product, average product, and marginal product, and distinguish between fixed and variable factors.
- PC12. Classify different types of goods (consumption, capital, final, intermediate) and economic concepts (stocks and flows, gross investment, depreciation).
- PC13. Conduct an economic analysis of costs, including fixed, variable, and marginal costs, and explain opportunity costs.

Qualification Pack

PC14. Introduce inputs and production functions, and explain the concepts of total, average, and marginal product.

Market

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

PC15. Explain revenue concepts in the context of different market structures.

PC16. Describe the features and price and output determination in perfect competition, monopoly, and monopolistic competition.

PC17. Define oligopoly and explain the concept of a cartel within this market structure.

Knowledge and Understanding (KU)

The individual on the job needs to know and understand:

KU1. Understand the basic principles of business economics, including microeconomics and macroeconomics.

MEP/N0714: Statistics for Business Decisions

Description

This NOS focuses on the application of statistical methods to analyze business data, support decision-making, and enhance strategic planning.

Scope

The scope covers the following :

- Introduction to Statistics
- Sampling and Probability
- Measures of Central Tendency
- Measures of Dispersion
- Relationship Between Variables

Elements and Performance Criteria

Introduction to Statistics

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC1. Define statistics and explain its functions, scope, and limitations in business decision-making.
- PC2. Describe methods of data collection and formulation of frequency distribution.
- PC3. Present data using bar graphs, pie charts, histograms, and ogive curves.

Sampling and Probability

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC4. Define population and sampling, distinguishing between probability and non-probability sampling methods.
- PC5. Explain basic probability concepts and conditional probability, and their applications in business contexts.

Measures of Central Tendency

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC6. Calculate arithmetic mean, including weighted arithmetic mean, and correct incorrect means.
- PC7. Determine median and mode, explaining their significance and the relationship among mean, median, and mode.
- PC8. Calculate partition values such as quartiles, deciles, and percentiles.

Measures of Dispersion

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC9. Introduction to Dispersion, range, IQR, and quartile deviation. Explain the concept of dispersion, including range, interquartile range (IQR), and quartile deviation.
- PC10. Calculate mean deviation, standard deviation, and coefficient of variance.

Relationship Between Variables

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

Qualification Pack

- PC11. Perform basic linear correlation analysis between two variables, using Karl Pearson's and Spearman's Rank correlation coefficients.
- PC12. Conduct simple and multiple linear regression analyses.
- PC13. Solve problems based on correlation and regression analyses.

Knowledge and Understanding (KU)

The individual on the job needs to know and understand:

- KU1. Understand fundamental statistical concepts, including measures of central tendency, dispersion, and probability.
- KU2. Recognize the role of descriptive and inferential statistics in business decision-making.
- KU3. Explain key statistical tools such as regression analysis, hypothesis testing, and data visualization.
- KU4. Identify data collection methods and techniques for ensuring data accuracy and reliability.

Generic Skills (GS)

User/individual on the job needs to know how to:

- GS1. Communicate statistical findings effectively through reports and presentations.
- GS2. Apply analytical skills to interpret business data and derive insights.
- GS3. Use problem-solving techniques to address business challenges using statistical methods.
- GS4. Demonstrate proficiency in using statistical software and tools for data analysis.

- PC5. Define the concept of an ecosystem and describe its structure and functions.
- PC6. Identify the roles of producers, consumers, and decomposers in the eco
- PC7. Explain energy flow, ecological succession, food chains, food webs, and ecological pyramids.
- PC8. Describe various types of ecosystems including forest, grassland, desert, and aquatic.

Biodiversity and its conservation

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC9. Define biodiversity, including genetic, species, and ecosystem diversity, and discuss its value and levels.
- PC10. Recognize India's position as a mega diversity nation and identify hot spots, threats, endangered, and endemic species.
- PC11. Discuss in-situ and ex-situ conservation strategies for biodiversity.

Environmental pollution

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

Qualification Pack

- PC12. Define types of pollution and describe causes, effects, prevention, and control measures of air, water, soil, marine, noise, thermal, and nuclear hazards.
- PC13. Discuss solid waste management and disaster management strategies for floods, earthquakes, cyclones, tsunamis, landslides, and e-waste.
- PC14. Describe the role of an individual in the prevention of pollution.
- PC15. Analyze pollution case studies to illustrate real-world issues and solutions.

Social issues and the environment

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC16. Discuss the transition from unsustainable practices to sustainable development.
- PC17. Analyze urban problems related to energy and urban planning, including water conservation, rainwater harvesting, and watershed management.
- PC18. Examine resettlement and rehabilitation issues and concerns, including relevant case studies.

Environmental ethics

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC19. Discuss environmental ethics, climate change, global warming, acid rain, ozone layer depletion, and their impacts.
- PC20. Study the Environmental Protection Act and other environmental legislation, addressing enforcement and public awareness issues.
- PC21. Analyze issues related to wasteland reclamation, consumerism, waste products, and their management.

General issues

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC22. Discuss the impact of human population growth and environmental health, highlighting variations among nations.
- PC23. Address population explosion, human rights, and the role of education in environmental protection.
- PC24. Evaluate the role of NGOs, NSS, and information technology in environmental protection and human health.
- PC25. Review case studies to understand the practical implications of these roles.

Knowledge and Understanding (KU)

The individual on the job needs to know and understand:

- KU1. Understand the importance of environmental studies and its role in sustainable development.
- KU2. Recognize various ecosystems and their components, including the interdependence between living and non-living elements.
- KU3. Explain the causes and consequences of environmental issues such as pollution, deforestation, and climate change.
- KU4. Identify key environmental protection laws and policies at national and global levels.

Generic Skills (GS)

Qualification Pack

User/individual on the job needs to know how to:

- GS1. Communicate environmental concepts effectively through presentations and discussions.
- GS2. Analyze real-world environmental problems and propose sustainable solutions.
- GS3. Demonstrate the ability to collect, organize, and interpret environmental data.
- GS4. Work collaboratively on projects focused on environmental awareness and conservation.

MEP/N0255: Computer Application

Description

This NOS discusses about the basics of computer and commonly used office management tools

Scope

The scope covers the following :

- Elements of computer system
- Hardware and its uses
- MS Word
- MS Excel
- MS PowerPoint (PPT)
- Internet and email
- System software

Elements and Performance Criteria

Elements of computer system

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC1. Define a computer and discuss its various classifications.
- PC2. Explain the primary functions of a computer.
- PC3. Identify the advantages and limitations of using computers.
- PC4. Describe various applications of computers in different fields.

Hardware and its uses

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC5. Identify and describe the physical components of a computer.
- PC6. Discuss the different generations of computers and their evolution.
- PC7. Describe various types of storage (e.g., HDD, SSD, cloud storage).
- PC8. Explain the functions of common input and output devices.

MS Word

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC9. Navigate the Microsoft Word interface and manage document tasks (open, create, save).
- PC10. Use editing tools to select, edit, find, and replace text.
- PC11. Apply formatting techniques including bullets, numbering, tabs, and paragraph formatting.
- PC12. Insert tables, flow charts, and manage text wrapping.
- PC13. Conduct a Mail Merge for documents, envelopes, and labels.

MS Excel

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

- PC14. Understand spreadsheet concepts and perform operations with formulas, including relative and absolute cell referencing.

Qualification Pack

PC15. Use common functions like SUM, AVERAGE, MAX, MIN, COUNT, COUNTA, and COUNTBLANK.

PC16. Create and customize charts (line, pie, bar) and manage chart layouts.

PC17. Implement sorting, filtering, and lookup functions (HLookup, VLookup).

MS PowerPoint (PPT)

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

PC18. Develop new presentations, insert and format slides, and manage slide transitions and animations.

PC19. Incorporate multimedia elements such as pictures, videos, and sounds.

PC20. Adjust slide design, change slide order, and print handouts from a PowerPoint presentation.

Internet and email

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

PC21. Demonstrate how to search for and access web pages.

PC22. Create an email account and manage email communication including sending and receiving emails.

PC23. Explore applications of the internet in online banking and other online services.

System software

To be competent, the user/individual on the job must be able to:

PC24. Discuss the role and functions of operating systems with a focus on Microsoft Windows.

PC25. Describe system software components including translators like interpreters and compilers.

Knowledge and Understanding (KU)

The individual on the job needs to know and understand:

KU1. Understand the components of a computer system, including hardware and software, and their functions.

KU2. Recognize the uses and features of various hardware devices such as input, output, and storage devices.

KU3. Explain the basic functions and applications of MS Word, MS Excel, and MS PowerPoint in creating and managing documents, spreadsheets, and presentations.

KU4. Identify the role and features of system software, including operating systems and utility programs.

KU5. Understand the basics of internet usage, email communication, and online safety protocols

Generic Skills (GS)

User/individual on the job needs to know how to:

GS1. Communicate effectively using emails and internet-based tools for professional interactions.

GS2. Apply critical thinking to troubleshoot basic hardware and software issues.

GS3. Use time management skills to efficiently complete tasks using MS Office applications.

GS4. Demonstrate the ability to create professional documents, data reports, and presentations using MS Word, Excel, and PowerPoint.

Assessment Guidelines and Assessment Weightage

Assessment Guidelines

1. Criteria for assessment for each Qualification Pack will be created by the Sector Skill Council. Each Performance Criteria (PC) will be assigned marks proportional to its importance in NOS. SSC will also lay down the proportion of marks for Theory and Skills Practical for each PC.
2. The assessment for the theory part will be based on the knowledge bank of questions created by the SSC.
3. Assessment will be conducted for all compulsory NOS, and where applicable, on the selected elective/option NOS/set of NOS.
4. Individual assessment agencies will create unique question papers for the theory part for each candidate at each examination/training center (as per assessment criteria below).
5. Individual assessment agencies will create unique evaluations for skill practical for every student at each examination/ training center based on these criteria.
6. To pass the Qualification Pack assessment, every trainee should score recommended pass % aggregate for the QP.

Qualification Pack

Minimum Aggregate Passing % at QP Level : 70

(Please note: Every Trainee should score a minimum aggregate passing percentage as specified above, to successfully clear the Qualification Pack assessment.)
