RAS/Q0113: Retail Sales for IndiaSkills/ WorldSkills Competition

Brief Job Description

The qualifications equip learners to work confidently in the retail industry, which connects producers with customers and supports business growth. With shopping now happening both in stores and online, retail professionals need to serve customers well in both settings. Learners will develop good communication and customer service skills, understand products and promotions, and learn how to handle different customer needs. As technology and eco-friendly practices become more important, this qualification also helps learners create value, build customer trust, and ensure a pleasant shopping experience.

Personal Attributes

Learners should demonstrate a customer-focused attitude, effective communication, professionalism, and a willingness to learn. They should be courteous, honest, adaptable to changing retail technologies, and capable of working collaboratively in a team. They should also be responsible, empathetic, and committed to delivering quality service while promoting sustainable practices and creating a positive shopping experience for customers.
